Crops and Live Stock.

Corn cutting is about over. The yield of corn is absolutely the worst that could have been grown and cattle men will have to buy heavy through the brokers. While a few fields show good ears, most of them will produce nothing but nubbins. Another thing that is causing much loss to the farmers is the fact that the rainy weather has caused the ears which have been in the shock for some time to rot, while the fodder is also decaying, and some of the farmers have shucked out and housed their corn before it was good and hard, thus making an effort to save it from total ruin. Fodder will not be as good as was expected.

One good thing farmers have is the excellent start that rye and wheat, which were sown early, have secured. In most of these fields the grazing is now excellent and stock can be run on them easily until the first of the year, with anything like an open winter. Fall grass is also good and there is an abundance of stock water on every farm.

Turkeys and chickens are especially healthy and are growing rapidly. Men have been out through the country looking over the turkey crop and while they pronounce the birds in good condition, they say that the crop is short. It is therefore believed that good heavy turkeys which will be ready early will bring from 12½ to 15c per pound on foot, for Thanksgiving shipment.

Eggs are high, while butter is scarce and high with good rich milk selling at a premium.

Winter apples are good and there seems to be quite an abundance of them everywhere.

Sheep are reported in the very best of health to start the winter, the county being free from disease this year. There are a number of good flocks in the county, and this year most of the farmers and sheep men have bred for lambs to come late in February, as past experience has demonstrated to them that lambs coming at this time make the best and quickest weight.

Feeding cattle are in good shape, and the demand for them has been the best in many years, good ones selling at 4½ to 4¾ cents, and some extra at 5 cents. It is believed that more will be handled in this county this winter than were handled last winter, notwithstanding the fact that feed of all kinds will be higher.

Hay—timothy and clover—is in heavy demand at almost any price asked, bringing from $22 to $25 per ton, and none of it is extra. There is some alfalfa in the county and all kinds of stuff has been cut and housed to make winter feed.

There is a scarcity of fat hogs in the county and a big demand for cattle shoats weighing from 80 to 125 pounds, but there is a world of small shoats from 30 to 40 pounds weight, which can be bought at almost your own figure. There has been quite a lot of fat hogs shipped to market during the past week.

Fell Under Train.

While attempting to board a train in this city, Alex Hogge, of Menefee county, fell under the train and the wheels cut the heel from his shoes, lacerating his foot and toes badly, although it cannot be determined as yet whether any bones are broken. The foot is badly swollen and is causing the sufferer intense pain. His escape from more serious injury was a narrow one.

SCOTT JONES

Nominated by Republican Committee at Last Minute for City Assessor.

Monday was the last day any one could get his name on the November ballots and to the surprise of everybody, Mr. W. Scott Jones, a local insurance man, filed with County Court Clerk A. A. Hazelrigg, a certificate of nomination from the Republican Committee, asking that his name be placed under the Log Cabin against the regular Democratic nominee, Mr. W. T. Fitzpatrick, Jr., for the office of City Assessor.

It has been generally understood for weeks that no one would have any chance to win over the splendid ticket nominated by the Democratic party and that this ticket would have no opposition.

The action of Mr. Jones, in the afternoon of the last day, was therefore a surprise to members of both parties and further surprise was occasioned when it was discovered that Mr. Jones registered at the recent registration, as a Democrat and voted ballot No. 163 in the primary in which Mr. Fitzpatrick was nominated.

The primary was fairly conducted and Mr. Fitzpatrick was nominated by a good majority.

Why Mr. Jones does not feel in honor bound to support the nominee, we are unable to understand and we are anxious to see on what grounds he will ask the support of the Republican party, to which party he so recently denied any allegiance.

E. W. Stockton Buys Electric Dry Cleaning Works.

E. W. Stockton has purchased the machinery of the Electric Dry Cleaning Works and moved same to his shop over the Wear-U-Well Shoe Co.'s store. This machinery, added to what he already had, makes him now have one of the best equipped cleaning and pressing houses this side of Louisville. He will still retain the house used as a dry cleaning shop on Locust street. A call will convince you that this shop is prepared to do all work in a prompt and skillful manner.

Miss Grimes Becomes Bride.

Miss Mabel Edward Grimes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Grimes, proprietors of the Baumont Hotel, was united in marriage last Wednesday to Mr. Robert Lee Norton, a prosperous farmer of Nicholas county.

Miss Grimes, who recently moved here with her parents from Carlisle, is not well known here, but is quite popular in Nicholas, where she has a host of admiring friends, who will be interested to learn of her wedding.

Delivers Shredders.

Prewitt & Howell, the well known hardware firm, delivered several corn shredders to our farmers last Saturday. This enterprising firm has made several car load deliveries of farmers' implements this season.

Box Supper a Success.

The box supper given by the members of the Methodist church at Grassy Lick last Saturday night was a grand success. There were about 60 boxes sold, netting $87.55. The Grassy Lick people never do things by halves.

Hallowe'en Novelties and Post Cards at The Fair.

OUR NEXT COUNTY CLERK.

MR. KELLER GREENE.

Realizing the futility of it, no Republican opposition has been given Mr. Keller Greene, the Democratic nominee for County Court Clerk, and he will therefore assume the duties of that office as soon as the County Commissioners can canvass the returns and issue certificate of election, which will not be later than November 10.

Being a clean and competent gentleman, we are sure the duties of the office will be discharged by him in a prompt and satisfactory manner.

Child Bitten by Vicious Dog.

While passing the residence of Dr. J. A. VanSant on her way to school Thursday morning, Nellie, the little twelve-year-old daughter of Dan Holleran, was attacked by a bull dog belonging to one of Dr. VanSant's sons. The dog grabbed the child by the left leg, badly biting the muscle below the knee. Several men, who were passing, pulled the dog from the child, but he jerked away and again grabbed her, badly lacerating her foot. It took some time to beat him off the child. We are informed that this is the second time the dog had attacked the little girl.

The child was carried into Dr. VanSant's residence for medical attention. The dog was immediately killed.

Troubles Never Come Singly.

Bad luck seems to follow our friend, T. Newton Duff. Last week his barn burned and it is doubtful whether he can collect any insurance upon his tobacco and yesterday, while handling some tobacco, he was struck in the left eye with a tobacco stick. He has something to be thankful for, however, as the injury was slight and while it will be painful for a few days, the sight will not be impaired.

Hallowe'en Dance.

The Hallowe'en dance, which will be held at Trimble's Hall on Tuesday, October 31st, promises to be one of the most gorgeous social functions of the season.

Following is a partial list of the young ladies who will attend from a distance: Misses Elizabeth Rogers, New York; Margaret Mount, Lancaster; Laura Clay, Evamonde Armstrong, Lexington; Judith Bright, Georgia Sweeney, Eminence; Helen Tash, Chicago; Mary Frances Brown, Shelbyville; Willie Howard Barnes, Lexington; Ellen Kirk, Mayville.

Farm for Sale.

Your county and State taxes are now due. Pay them before the penalty goes on. 16-4t W. F. Crooks, Sheriff.

BIG BARBECUE.

The Burley Tobacco Society to Give Barbecue in Lexington Thursday, Oct. 26.

The Burley Tobacco Society will give a big barbecue at Lexington Thursday, Oct. 26, to launch the great pooling campaign under the ten-years plan and for the starting of the mammoth tobacco factory in which to manufacture the growers' tobacco.

Every tobacco grower, banker, merchant and every man, woman and child interested in the welfare of the tobacco grower everywhere is invited to come and hear a full explanation of both the pooling contract and proposition to start the tobacco factory.

Many of the best speakers in the State will be on hand to address the crowd.

Dies Suddenly.

Mr. "Dink" Murphy died at his home on the Levee pike Monday afternoon. Mr. Murphy had been sick with fever for some weeks, but was considered out of danger and his death was a great surprise and shock to his friends. He had been feeling especially well and requested a member of his family to raise him up in bed in order that he might drink a glass of milk, but just as he was being raised they noticed a change in him and before medical attention could be had he had passed away.

Mr. Murphy had been a resident of this county only a few years, having moved here from Morgan county. He was a prominent farmer and live stock dealer and had the respect and friendship of many of our people. We extend our sympathy to his sorrowing family.

Tobacco Barn Burns.

Last Wednesday while trying to prevent the tobacco from "house burning" by building a fire under it, a large tobacco barn on the farm rented by Mr. T. Newton Duff, near Thomson Station, and owned by Mr. Albert Stofer, of this city, caught fire and was totally destroyed together with its contents.

Mr. Duff had about 17 acres of tobacco in the barn at the time, the value of which was about $3,000, and which was insured with Greene, Strossman & Hazelrigg, in this city.

Mr. Stofer had no insurance on the barn and his loss will be about $1,500.

Loses Fine Horse.

Messrs. Marion and Walter Bridges sustained a great loss last Wednesday in the sudden death of the fine young show stallion, King of Montgomery. The horse was sick only a short time. He had been shown during the past summer by Shropshire & Matlack, of Winchester, and had been a consistent winner. He was valued at $5,000. The many friends of these popular young horsemen will regret to learn of their loss.

There will be a box supper at the Moberly schoolhouse Friday, October 27, at 7:30 p. m. Everybody invited.

Just in—another lot of "Funny Post Cards." Come in and have a laugh with us. Also a fine assortment of Hallowe'en cards, one cent each. Spot Cash Grocery.

Congressman Heflin Entertained.

Hon. J. Thomas Heflin, Congressman from Alabama, was met by a party of Mt. Sterling friends at Owingsville, where he spoke to a large crowd Saturday afternoon, and was brought to our city in an automobile. Upon arrival, the party went to the Ringo Cafe, where an elegant dinner was served.

Those present were Congressman Heflin, Henry R. Prewitt, W. B. White, R. G. Kern, John A. Judy, J. Will Clay, C. B. Duereson, Caldwell Clay, A. A. Hazelrigg and E. W. Seaff.

From here the gifted southerner went to Washington. A special effort is being made to secure a speaking appointment for him here at an early date.

Game Reported Plentiful.

With only three weeks intervening between now and November 15, when the hunting season opens, sportsmen and hunters everywhere are making preparations for one of the biggest seasons in many years. The woods and fields this fall will be fairly alive with sportsmen, for the word has gone out all over the State that game is more plentiful this year than ever before.

Dry weather during the summer has been favorable to the young birds, and as a consequence the familiar call of the quail can be heard on every side in regions that quail were never before known to inhabit.

Horse Injures Man.

Mr. Will McCormick, an employee of the Tipton & Anderson blacksmith shop, was painfully injured last week while attempting to shoe a vicious horse, which knocked him down and pawed his left arm severely. Mr. McCormick is able to be out, although his arm is still in a rather serious condition.

Be quick! Only three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday. POTATOES $1 per bushel, or 25c a peck. Of course, at The Spot Cash Grocery.

Honey For Sale.

I now have the fall honey ready for delivery. Strained honey, 10c per pound; the comb honey, 12½c per pound.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. Thomas Johnson has announced the engagement of her youngest daughter, Miss Susette Johnson, to Mr. B. Frank Perry, the marriage to take place in the early winter.

Miss Johnson is one of Mt. Sterling's most popular young ladies and a social favorite, and being a member of one of the oldest families in the State makes the announcement of wide spread interest.

Mr. Perry, who has only been a resident of Mt. Sterling for a few years, having moved here from Owingsville, Ky., is assistant cashier of the Exchange Bank, is a young man of sterling worth and integrity and is most deservedly popular. He has the happy faculty of making a friend of everyone with whom he comes in contact.

Langley Floods County With Circular Letters.

During the past week many farmers have informed us of the receipt by them a printed letter which Chairman Langley is sending out in the name of Judge O'Rear, asking support because of his stand on the tobacco question.

While an effort is made to make these letters appear "personal," as a matter of fact they are merely a printed circular turned out by the thousand. This is an old political trick which Langley in his last race worked overtime.

Lovely-Oldham.

Mr. Joel Oldham and Miss Ida Lovely were united in marriage at the residence of Rev. Reynolds, in this city, last Wednesday. Mr. Oldham is a prosperous young farmer of the Camargo neighborhood. His bride is a daughter of Mr. Noah Lovely, of this county, and is said to be a favorite in her neighborhood.

Rheumatic Pains quickly relieved

Sloan's Liniment is good for pain of any sort. It penetrates, without rubbing, through the muscular tissue right to the bone—relieves the congestion and gives permanent as well as temporary relief.

Here's Proof.

A. W. LAY of Lafayette, Ala., writes:—"I had rheumatism for five years. I tried doctors and several different remedies but they did not help me. I obtained a bottle of Sloan's Liniment which did me so much good that I would not do without it for anything."

THOMAS L. RICE of Easton, Pa., writes:—"I have used Sloan's Liniment and find it first-class for rheumatic pains."

Mr. G. G. JONES of Baldwins, L. I., writes:—"I have found Sloan's Liniment par excellence. I have used it for broken sinews above the knee cap caused by a fall, and to my great satisfaction I was able to resume my duties in less than three weeks after the accident."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is an excellent remedy for sprains, bruises, sore throat, asthma. No rubbing necessary—you can apply with a brush.

At all dealers. Price, 25c., 50c. & $1.00.

VETERANS

At Lexington For Unveiling of Monument to Chieftain.

Morgan's men, who rode out to Lexington a half century ago behind their dauntless chieftain to battle for the Southland and its cause, returned last Wednesday and captured the city. Not with clattering hoofs, clanking sabers and the panoply of war did they come, but with the ranks thinned by time and visages wrinkled by age, these battle-scarred heroes came. On a peaceful mission, with patriotic and loyal hearts they came to commemorate the heroic achievements of the past, by assisting the Daughters of the Confederacy in dedicating a splendid bronze, equestrian statue to the memory of Gen. John Hunt Morgan, the famous Confederate cavalry leader.

The unveiling ceremonies, which took place on the courthouse square, where the memorial stands overlooking the city's main thoroughfare, were witnessed by thousands of citizens from all parts of Kentucky, including many who wore the "blue" as well as the "gray."

A feature of the program was an imposing street parade, in which city and county officials, fraternal organizations, Confederate and Union veterans, Daughters of the Confederacy, University cadets, police, school children and citizens generally took part, the effect being heightened by martial music from several brass bands and by all the pomp and pageantry of badges, plumes banners and flags.

POLICE HEAD PARADE.

The parade started at the Woodland Park Auditorium, in the east end of the city, and was nearly a mile long. Ten mounted police, under Lieut. Charles H. Overly, as marshals, headed the parade. Four sons of veterans came next as aides, followed by Saxton's band of twenty-five pieces. Then came Gen. Basil W. Duke, president of the Morgan Monument Association, and one of Gen. Morgan's chief lieutenants, with Gen. John B. Castleman, at his side, both of Louisville, mounted on spirited horses. Behind them marched the surviving members of Morgan's old command, followed by Confederates of other commands, G. A. R. veterans, Louisville Industrial School band, State officials, United Confederate veterans, the Morgan Monument Committee, and State officials of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in carriages and automobiles. State University cadets, guests of honor, city and county officials, fraternal organizations, school children and citizens in the order named.

On behalf of the city of Lexington, Mayor Skain delivered an address of welcome to the visiting veterans and Daughters, after which Dr. Guy Carleton Lee, of Baltimore, Md., was introduced as the orator of the day, delivering an appropriate address on the life and achievements of Gen. Morgan. Mrs. L. McF. Blakemore, of Hopkinsville, president of the Kentucky Division U. D. C., responded.

Bands of school children, ranged in the form of a huge flag, enlivened the intervals with patriotic songs.

MANY EARLY ARRIVALS.

Officers of the monument association, the State officers of the U. D. C. veterans' organizations and guests of honor arrived Tuesday night, among them Dr. Guy Carleton Lee, of Baltimore, orator of the day; Senator McCreary, Gen. Buckner, Gen. Duke, Gen. Bennett H. Young, Gen. Castleman, and a large delegation from Louisville, while the early morning trains were crowded with visitors. It is estimated that 10,000 people witnessed the parade and attended the unveiling.

The principal streets of the city were gayly decorated with National and Confederate flags, while the statue was draped in huge battle flags of the Confederacy, hiding it from the view of the crowds who early began to throng the courthouse square, where the unveiling took place. Miss Henrietta Hunt Henning, of Louisville, granddaughter of Gen. Duke, and Miss Frances Breckinridge Steele, of Midway, granddaughter of Gen. John C. Breckinridge, as sponsors, cut the ribbons that held the drapery unveiling the statue. The program of the day began with a reception at 10 o'clock at the Elks' Club, tendered by the members of the John C. Breckinridge chapter, to the visiting veterans.

Here the grizzled heroes of the 'sixties fought their battles over again. At the same time the Daughters of the Confederacy opened their annual convention at the Phoenix Hotel and officially accepted the Morgan monument. The parade, inaugurating the unveiling ceremonies proper, was one of the most imposing pageants ever witnessed in Lexington.—Louisville Times.

Up to Humphrey.

Judge O'Rear denounces as "liars" the gentlemen who states that at the Galt House Conference after the Goebel-Taylor election, he counseled the use of arms and violence if necessary to keep Taylor in the executive chair. Governor McCreary refers to Judge Alex. P. Humphrey, of Louisville, who O'Rear says was present, and asks him to repeat what O'Rear said on that occasion; that the Judge is an honest man and will tell the truth. There is no doubt that Judge O'Rear is guilty of the charge brought against him by Governor McCreary. It will be interesting to watch him crawl from under.

O'Rear Trying to Fool the Tobac- co People.

When Judge O'Rear gets into one of the Tobacco Counties he drops every other subject, and begins to shed tears over the wrongs of the tobacco growers. He dwells upon their oppressions, and denounces the wickedness of the Tobacco Trust, and promises that if he is elected Governor he will force the price of tobacco up to twelve cents, and makes many other pledges equally impossible of performance. One of his boldest statements is that if the Tobacco Trust does not pay the tobacco growers as much as twelve cents for their tobacco, that he knows a way to make them do it, and that if they refuse, he proposes to drive the trust out of the State, and not permit them to do any business here.

Judge O'Rear claims to be the only friend that the tobacco growers have, and that they can rely on him, and him alone, to lead them out of the wilderness of low-prices and bad crops.

It is not possible that any intelligent tobacco grower can be influenced by such demagogical appeals. They proceed from the inherent selfishness of the candidate who is badly in need of votes, and he proposes to get them if gilt-edged promises will do any good.

Kentucky is practically unanimous in its opposition to the oppression the Tobacco Trust has placed upon the farmers of this State. Everybody denounce as little short of criminal the combination that will depress prices, and oppress the hardest worked people on earth, to put more money into coffers already bursting with riches. Everybody is agreed that tobacco prices in Kentucky have been too low, and it has been the concern of every fair-minded man help bring this price to a level where the farmer can be paid a generous sum for his labors. So far as it has been possible, a Democratic Legislature has answered every request of the tobacco growers by putting the remedial Legislation on the Statute book.

Governor McCreary has always been the friend of the tobacco people. He has helped them in the past, and he stands ready to do so in every possible way. If he is elected, he will enforce the law against those who violate the Statute preventing a trust or combination to control prices, and will lend a helping hand to those who have suffered in the past from the criminal oppression of the trusts.

If Judge O'Rear knows any way to compel the Tobacco Trusts to pay twelve cents for tobacco, he ought to communicate his secret to the Attorney General of the State, who is a Republican, and to Governor Willson, who is likewise a Republican, and let them put the machinery of the law into operation, so that the guilty will be punished, and the innocent will come into their reward.

If the present Republican administration cannot be trusted with O'Rear's secret, how can the people afford to trust O'Rear and his associates to do what his party has persistently refused to do—grant relief to the solely burdened tobacco growers?

The truth is, O'Rear is no more sincere on the tobacco question than he is on any of the many issues he has tried to drag into this campaign. He thinks he has found a cheap way to get votes, but the sensible tobacco men of the State will inspect that Trojan horse before they welcome him into their confidences.

How True.

Bill Nye had the truth well told when he said: "A man may use a wart on the back of his neck for a collar button, ride in the back coach of a railroad train to save interest on his money till the conductor gets around, stop his watch at night to save wear and tear, leave his "i" or "t" without a dot or cross to save ink, pasture his mother's grave to save corn, but a man of this sort is a gentleman and a scholar compared to the fellow that will take a newspaper two or three years and when asked to settle for it puts it into the postoffice and has it marked "refused."

DON'T BE DECEIVED.

As usual, the Republican party is endeavoring to make the temperance question the football of political expediency and like every other issue, is preaching and practicing on both sides of it.

In Lexington, for instance, Mr. John G. Stoll is the Republican nominee for Representative. Before accepting the nomination, he announced his intention of voting against the County Unit Bill, if elected, and gave his party ten days to consider this question before nominating him. In the Middlesboro District, State Senator Joe Bosworth, an acknowledged foe of the County Unit Bill, is again the nominee of the Republican party and Dr. Ben L. Bruner, Republican Secretary of State, urged his hearers in a recent speech in behalf of his party, not to let a little thing like the County Unit Bill stand between them and their party.

Again, Judge O'Rear would have us believe he is in good faith for temperance, yet at Covington, where the sentiment is at least equally divided, he recently announced he was opposed to State-wide prohibition. As further evidence of his insincerity, he personally selected Mr. J. W. McCulloch, the rich President of the Kentucky Distillers' Association, as Chairman of his Finance Committee. Mr. McCulloch immediately subscribed five hundred dollars to his campaign fund and sent letters soliciting contributions to every distiller and employe in the State.

To those who honor us by an occasional glance at this column, we want to submit this question: Is Mr. McCulloch raising funds to assist in putting himself out of business and to destroy, or materially depreciate in value, property in which he is reputed to have nearly a half million of dollars invested?

In this Legislative District, a similar effort is being made to fool the people. The Legislature, as everybody knows, is always two or three to one, in favor the County Unit Bill. The Republican party, however, is not concerned in the success or failure of the temperance cause, half as much, as it is in the successor of Hon. Thos. H. Paynter in the United States Senate.

All the temperance legislation now on the Statute books was placed there by a Democratic General Assembly, and the voters should not be deceived or misled by the political trickster or demagogue. The sole issue, rightly stated is this: A vote for Judge Craig, the Democratic nominee for the Legislature, is a vote for Hon. Ollie M. James, for United States Senator, while a vote for Mr. Ledford, the Republican nominee, is a vote for Mr. John W. Langley or the unspeakable Caleb Powers. Whom do you take?

Captain Cupid.

High-class ballads are gradually becoming more and more popular, thanks to Jerome H. Remick & Co., who are constantly urging the better class of vaudeville singers to use them. The one particular song which has met with unusual public favor is by Earle C. Jones and Charlotte Blake, two writers of Detroit. It is entitled The Harbor of Love, and our friend Cupid for the time being has dispensed with his wings—probably on account of the many aviators—and has taken up Navigation. As "Love's Captain" he is piloting his subjects into the harbor of his kingdom. This sweetest of lyrics is set to most bewitching music, whose melody will no doubt appeal to lovers of good songs all over the world, and such is the demand from the professional singers for this novelty in their anxiety to be the first to introduce it, that fourteen pianists in the New York music studios of Jerome H. Remick & Co. are busy from morning until night teaching The Harbor of Love. Once heard it is never forgotten. The chorus, which we quote, is especially catching.

CHORUS.

You are my harbor of love, dear,
You are my bright golden sea,
Just like a star that beams from afar,
You are a guide to me (for I love you).
Thro' darkness your lovelight is gleaming,
Bright as the sun high above;
I have no fear when storm clouds appear,
You're my harbor, my harbor of love.

Died in Cincinnati.

Mr. William S. Turner to Wed Prominent Georgetown Girl.

The betrothal of Miss Corinne Peak and Mr. William Stone Turner, of Mt. Sterling, was announced Thursday afternoon at a lovely tea given by her chum, Miss Katherine Stout Bradley, and was heard with surprise by a score of intimate friends.

The guests were entirely unaware of the pleasant news and were expecting only an informal chat and a cup of the refreshing beverage.

While hand-painted cards were being passed around, with the happy young couple's photos enclosed in a pair of hearts united by a bow knot, Miss Bradley, in words full of sentiment and affection, made the exciting announcement. Congratulations were showered upon the bride-to-be, who was particularly attractive in a rose colored embossed silk, with an overdress of veiling, and a becoming black velvet hat, with white plumes.

In the dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served, Mrs. Frank Maxwell, of Denver, Col., in an imported robe of black, with picture hat to match, presided at the urn, placed upon a table, artistic with its silver loving cup of pink dahlias, pink shaded candles and streamers of tulle.

Georgetown will soon lose one of her truly attractive girls, a girl of charming personality, with the gift of a beautiful soprano voice, who will be missed by a large circle of devoted friends. Mr. Turner comes from one of the old families of Mt. Sterling, and is representative of the Chicago Hardwood Finishing Company. After the marriage, which will take place in the near future, they will go South and West, expecting to remain until next spring.

The friends who accepted Miss Bradley's gracious hospitality were: Mrs. Robert Lee Stout, of Versailles, Mrs. Lucy Moore, of Lexington, Miss Sarah Pack, Mrs. Cornelius Reagan, Mrs. Edward Parker, Miss Linnette Branham, (who assisted in entertaining, as did also Mrs. Lewis Rice), Miss Margaret Peak, Mrs. Joseph E. Marks, Miss May Emma Stevenson, Mrs. Anderson C. Brown, Miss Jessie Bradley, Mrs. George Janeson, Miss Mamie Stone, Mrs. Victor A. Bradley, Miss Louise Dudley, Miss Maria Rucker and Mrs. A. M. Bradley.—Lexington Herald.

The Fitzpatrick Sale.

A very large crowd attended the sale of personal property and the renting of the lands of W. T. Fitzpatrick on Thursday. The sale, which was one of the biggest ones ever held in the county, was cried by Auctioneers Wm. Cravens, of this county, and Walter Boyd, of Sharpsburg. The land rented well and stock brought good prices. The Bailey farm of 158 acres was rented to Thos. W. Fitzpatrick for $1,080, and he also rented the home farm of 540 acres, at $5.01 an acre. The Bath county farm of about 200 acres was rented for $540. 75 head of feeding cattle brought from $5.25 to $5.40 per hundred. Milch cows, $35 to $45; one bull, 50; mules sold at from $300 to $380 a pair, one single mule brought $192.50; yearling horses averaged $80; two-year-old horses averaged about $100 and older horses averaged about $125. Rescues, the trotting stallion was sold to Catlett Everett for $165.

AS TO "ROOK."

The rook appears to have become the bird whose name stands for swindlers in a distinctly unfair way, the London Chronicle says. At first "rook" meant a dupe, then the verb "to rook" came to mean to cheat, and out of this was evolved "rook," a cheater—a complete topsy-turvy process. It is curious that the same thing has not happened to "gull." Here also the verb came from the substantive meaning a dupe, and, as the gull strikes one as rather a knowing bird, one might have expected the same evolution as in the case of the rook. It should be observed, however, that "gull," a dupe did not refer specially to the seagull, the word having formerly meant a young bird of any kind. In Elizabethan English it signified a callow youngster who wished to be thought smart.

RELIGIOUS

Rev. J. W. Porter, of Lexington, will conduct a revival meeting at the Baptist church, beginning Thursday right at seven o'clock. Mr. Porter is well known our people, having conducted meetings here before. He is one of the best known orators in this section. Everybody invited and urged to be present.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Lexington District will hold its district meeting at the Methodist church, beginning next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All churches are invited.

H. W. Elliott, State Evangelist, will deliver an address at the Christian Church on Sunday morning. His subject will be: "The Conquest of Kentucky." A cordial invitation is extended to the public. For nineteen years he has served as evangelist, and is in close touch with religious conditions in the State. No offering will be accepted.

Mrs. E. Y. Nelson, chairman of the Jubilee Movement, desires a meeting of all the Missionary Societies in the city Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Baptist Church to complete the program for the Jubilee to be held some time next month.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Margaret Kelly, aged 73 years, died at St. Joseph's Hospital, in Lexington, last Thursday, after only a few days' illness of acute stomach trouble. Mrs. Kelly had been making her home with her son, J. M. Kelly, for some time past, but was well known here, being the mother of Mrs. F. C. Laughlin. She was a woman of lovely Christian character and her life had been one well spent in her Master's service. To the sorrowing family we extend our sympathy.

Mr. Ambrose Biggers, aged 36, died at the home of his brother, E. R. Biggers, at Lexington last Tuesday night of tuberculosis. "Spaz," as he was familiarly called, was a well known figure about here for several years, and had many friends who will hear of his death with regret.

Hats to Order.

The Cincinnati Hat Mfg. Co. have a representative in this city. They are located in the Cockrell building on Main street, formerly occupied by The Electric Dry Cleaning Co. They take your measure and make your hat out of the raw material right here in Mt. Sterling. They can give you any style you wish with any trimming at prices ranging from $3 to $6. This firm will give you a hat that will fit your head and will not jostle around like the ready-made kind. You can't put paper in a shoe to make it fit, neither can you put paper in a hat to make it fit. Shape of your head will be taken FREE OF CHARGE.

They also make beaver hats for ladies and it will well pay the ladies of Mt. Sterling to give them a call.

CLEANING AND REMODELING A SPECIALTY.

P. S. This is a rare opportunity, and this concern will only have a representative here for one more week, so you had better come early.

Greenwade carries a full line of meats—nothing but the best.

Exchange-Exchange.

The young ladies of the Missionary Society of the Baptist church will have an exchange at the Novelty Store, Saturday, beginning at nine o'clock. Everything good to eat.

Bourbon Boy Wins Loving Cup.

On behalf of the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association, of which Gen. John B. Castleman, of Louisville, is president, President Henry S. Barker, of State University, at Lexington, Tuesday morning, presented a handsome silver loving cup, valued at $125, to William Collins, of North Middletown, senior in the College of Agriculture of the university, as a token of appreciation by the association of the fine work done by Mr. Collins in judging saddle horses at the State Fair this fall. Mr. Collins was a member of a stock judging team from the Department of Animal Husbandry of the College of Agriculture, which took part in stock judging at the State Fair, and he won first place on the team, making him eligible to be awarded the loving cup for 1911.

The cup must be won two years in succession by the same member of the team in order that it may be kept by him, otherwise it will be given each year to the student of the College of Agriculture who makes the highest mark in judging. Mr. Collins was complimented on his efficiency in judging the saddle horse. He is a son of Mr. John Collins, the prominent horseman and farmer of North Middletown, and is well known in this county.

WHICH WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

If you saw a row of apples, everyone differing in size, ripeness and color, and all for sale at the same price, wouldn't you choose the best? Why not do the same thing when you buy fire insurance? The cost of insurance is substantially the same in all agencies, but what you get for your money varies as much as the apples in the row.

Choose then HOFFMAN'S INSURANCE AGENCY. For Nearly Three Quarters of a Century it has paid every loss, big and little. It's reputation is unexcelled. It is the best fire insurance apple of them all, and its policies cost no more than those in agencies of inferior quality. Why not use the same judgment in buying insurance that you would in such a trivial matter as buying fruit at a fruit stand?

Caleb Powers a Republican Leader.

It has been charged that Caleb Powers is not taking an active part in the campaign because Judge O'Rear refused to answer Governor McCreary's question, whether he approved of the pardon of Powers by Gov. Willson. While the most famous of the Goebel conspirators may bear some resentment because O'Rear has not shown the courage to approve Willson's course in this matter, he is still to good a politician to injure his future chances by showing any open resentment against Judge O'Rear. If there is one quality that Caleb Powers does not lack, it is faith in his own star. He considers his election to Congress as only a partial reward for his years of imprisonment on the charge of murder, and confidently looks forward to higher honors. It will be observed that he pushes himself to the front on every occasion, seeking the applause that is such rich music to his ears. At the recent Republican Convention, he co-operated with O'Rear in the writing of the platform, and did not hesitate to cast the deciding vote against the plank which contained Governor Willson's name and an approval of his administration and his policy.

Powers is willing to make any political alliance that will advance his cause. If the Republicans carry the Legislature, he will be a candidate for the United States Senate, and if Judge O'Rear is elected Governor, and there is a vacancy in the United States Senate, he will be found at Frankfort, demanding that the toga be placed upon his shoulders.

When Judge O'Rear gets on that special train in the Eleventh District, he will have Caleb Powers to share the honors with Senator Bradley, who has also promised to lend the dignity of his presence.

If there is any Democrat in Kentucky who thinks of casting his vote for Judge O'Rear, he ought to watch the activities of Caleb Powers in this campaign, and then decide if he can afford to be found in such company.

INTO FOUR FIRMS

American Tobacco Company is to be Divided.

New York.—The plan of dissolution of the American Tobacco company, as announced, provides for its division into four firms: The American Tobacco company, Liggett & Myers company, P. Lorillard company, both the latter to be organized, and R. J. Reynolds company. The disintegration is to be effected by selling $115,000,000 worth of property of the American Tobacco company to Liggett & Myers and P. Lorillard company and by the distribution to the common stockholders of the American, two-thirds of the stock of the R. J. Reynolds company. Further plans provide for all details of the new arrangement.

When the language of business is applied to the practices of politics, as in this from Success Magazine, the effect may be instructive as well as startling.

Two negro men came up to the outskirts of a crowd where a senator was making a campaign speech. After listening to the speech for about ten minutes, one of them turned to his companion and asked, "Who am dat man, Sambo?" "Ah don't know what his name am," Sambo replied, "but be certain do recommen' hisself mos' highly."

Senator Bradley and Lillard--the Bolter.

When Senator Bradley gets on that special train and gives to O'Rear that support which he so far has denied him, it is to be hoped that he will make a fuller explanation of his relations with ex-Representative Lillard, the bolting Democrat who voted for him for the Senate. There is much curiosity as to the particular period when Bradley promised Lillard the position he now holds as Assistant Secretary at $1,200 a year. Bradley says he did not make this appointment to reward Lillard, but was moved to do so because Lillard was in financial straits, and had been driven out of business in Danville for his support of Bradley.

What are the facts about Lillard's career at Danville? The official records show that he was indicted forty-five times for selling liquor in local option territory. Finally, when the officers had run him to cover, and there was no way for him to escape, he compromised with the Commonwealth by signing a written pledge never to sell liquor again in Boyle county, either in his own name, or in the name of another.

This shows the character of man Lillard was even before he betrayed his party and voted for Bradley. After he had so debased himself, the people of Danville hung him in effigy and gave further evidences of their disapproval of his course.

As Judge O'Rear thinks Bradley is "the greatest living Kentuckian," and approves of his acts, he is, no doubt, willing to join the Senator in giving a badly needed certificate of character to Lillard, who ought to be taken with them on that special train, and marked "Exhibit A" as an evidence on what a lobby at Frankfort can do when it tries.

"The corrupt lobby" which O'Rear assails, is the identical lobby that secured four bolting Democrats to vote for W. O. Bradley and elect him to the United States Senate. The beneficiary of this fraud upon the people is morally as guilty as the corruptionists that perpetrated it, and yet, Judge O'Rear proclaims Bradley the "greatest living Kentuckian," and has always been, that his title as Senator is "without flaw or stain."

Going to the City.

It is well for the girl who wishes to go to the city to hunt work to know that very few girls can live in any great city on a salary of five or six dollars a week unless relatives or friends help her out until she can get better wages. Country girls would do well to begin at home, or in their home town, and learn something of the work she expects to do, and thus be able to secure a better position in the city. If the girl goes to the city and finds herself a failure, so far as securing work is concerned, she should go at once to the refuge of a W. C. T. U., or Y. M. C. A., where she will find the protecting care of home for a little while and probably some assistance in getting into a suitable position. But it must be firmly impressed upon her mind that she must, under no circumstances, if it can possibly be avoided, make an appeal for help to strangers, men or women, for something wrong might result from it. A lone, helpless, friendless girl is always in great peril in any great city. Take all the protection these associations can give you, while trying to be self-sustaining, for at best, it is a risky business, and harm, more often than good, will follow trusting to strangers.—Exchange.

Arbor and Bird Day.

Arbor and Bird day will be celebrated in Kentucky on Friday, October 27. In previous years the day has been observed in the spring. It has been deemed advisable to change the date to the autumn in order that the observance may take place at a time when the rural schools are in session. The wisdom of the change is not to be doubted.

In order to direct the attention of the people, the school pupils especially, to the importance of the occasion the State Department of Education has issued an elaborate annual bulletin 140 pages prepared by Miss Ethel Reid, under the supervision of Superintendent Ellsworth Regenstein. The book is beautifully illustrated, and in addition to its various suggestions for the observance of Bird and Arbor day, it contains much interesting matter along lines of nature study. There are lists of the native trees and birds, instructions for planting trees, suggestions as to school gardens, outlines for indoor study, appropriate political and musical selections, and a great variety of special articles dealing with birds, flowers and forestry. A copy of the book is to be sent to every school library in the State and the volume is well worthy of preservation. There are evidences of painstaking work in its compilation, and it is highly creditable to the Department of Education.

Arbor and Bird day should be generally observed. It is appropriate that it should be observed in the schools, that the rising generations thereby may be impressed with the importance of the conservation of forestry and bird life. Kentucky should make a new record in 1911 in the celebration of the day, and should strive to excel that record with every succeeding year. Thousands of trees should be planted on Friday, October 27, and hundreds of rural schools should make a beginning for future beautification.—Courier-Journal.

They will strengthen the kidneys. Here is Mt. Sterling proof that this is so:

Charles Wilson, 14 Richmond Ave., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "At my work I am on my feet nearly all the time and this weakened my kidneys, causing back-ache. My bladder became affected and I was annoyed by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions, especially at night. I was finally told to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial and I procured a box at F. C. Duerson's Drug Store. I received permanent relief from the kidney difficulty and the pains through my back disappeared. I am pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other persons, as I know they can be depended upon."

Is O'Rear For or Against Senator Bosworth?

Senator Bosworth, who led the fight for good roads in the last Legislature, and who is a very popular man with his people, has been re-nominated by the Republicans. He has many friends in the Seventeenth district, but his friends have brought out an independent Republican, and are urging a bitter warfare upon him. As the district is hopelessly Republican, the Democrats have made no nomination.

The Evening Post, which helped to force O'Rear's nomination, and which is his chief organ, is making a relentless fight against Senator Bosworth. Although he is the nominee of the party, it is urging the Republicans of his district to vote against him, and is doing all in its power to accomplish his defeat. The Post charges that Senator Bosworth is not in line with his party platform on temperance matters.

So far, Judge O'Rear has not committed himself as to Senator Bosworth's candidacy. He does not dare give him open opposition, because Bosworth's popularity in that section is as great, if not greater, than O'Rear's. If O'Rear urges the Republicans to elect Bosworth, he will gain the enmity of the Evening Post, which is implacable in its hatreds. On the other hand, if he takes sides with the independent candidate for the Senate, he will run the risk of having Bosworth's friends knife him. Every effort has been made to harmonize the factions in this matter, but it has only deepened the chasm that divides them.

Governor McCreary is not afraid of State issues. He has discussed them in every speech he has made in this campaign. The ringing progressive Democratic platform is his work. He supports every plank in it, and when elected Governor, he will make it his business to see that his party redeems every pledge it has made to the people.

HOW OLD PEOPLE

May Prolong Their Lives

At an advanced age waste is more rapid than repair. The organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth. The circulation is poor, the blood thin and watery, the appetite poor and digestion weak.

We want to say to every aged person in this vicinity that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) will prolong life. It creates an appetite, aids digestion and makes good blood. In this natural manner Vinol retards waste and replaces weakness with strength, giving new life to the worn system.

If people in this vicinity only realized how Vinol invigorates old people we would not be able to supply the demand.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. W. S. LLOYD, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

TO BED UNWASHED.

His little hands are folded now
And peace is in his breast:
There where a curl lies on his brow
His mother's lips were pressed.

It was but a little while ago
That he so gladly played,
And was it I that fretted so
About the noise he made?

How calmly, peacefully he lies,
Not knowing I am near!
The lids are closed upon his eyes,
My sighs he does not hear.

His little hands, alas, are black!
Lie on the spotless spread,
And, oh, but they are soiled and black!
He went unwashed to bed.

Call For Greater Kentucky Convention to be Held in Louisville, November 14-15.

So many questions of vital importance to the future of Kentucky are pressing upon the people of the State for discussion and wise solution that it seems important again to call together in conference representative men from all parts of the State to consider present conditions and desired reforms and feasible methods of advancing the prosperity of the State. Such conferences heretofore held have resulted in great good, developing a better understanding of the needs of the State and a closer co-operation among its progressive citizens, and promoting a clearer understanding of what can be done and how best to do it.

In this spirit such a State conference is called by the two State-wide organizations which we represent, to be held in Louisville Tuesday and Wednesday, November 14 and 15. The subjects to be discussed will cover the field of Kentucky's needs. It is desired have in attendance the live, public-spirited men of every county and city.

At our request the Louisville Convention and Publicity League will make all arrangements for the entertainment of the convention.

We are asking all County Judges, Mayors of cities and commercial and agricultural organizations to appoint a number of delegates, not less than five each, whose interest can be counted on, and whose advice will be valuable.

ONE TRICK FATHER MISSED

Col. Fred Hale's Little Slam at His Father, the Former Senator From Maine.

Col. Fred Hale of Portland, Me., son of former Senator Eugene Hale of that state, came to Washington and called on his old friend, H. C. Emery, of the tariff board, also from Maine.

Emery's office is in the treasury building and Emery showed Hale, not without pride, the long row of granite monoliths on the Fifteenth street side of that building, explaining that there were 36 in the lot, recently put up to replace the old limestone columns, and that they cost $10,000 each.

"Ten thousand dollars each?" repeated Hale.

"Yes," replied Emery; "they came from the New Hampshire quarries."

"From New Hampshire?"

"Yes."

"You don't mean it!" said Hale.

"Where the deuce was father?"

Saturday Evening Post.

Business People Think O'Rear Unsafe.

The contrast between Candidate O'Rear and Judge O'Rear is a startling one. On the bench removed from the arena of politics, although on occasions going perilously near the line, he has been regarded more as a dreamer than an active man of affairs, disturbed by the call of ambition, or tempted by the hope of promotion. His school addresses have been looked on as playful diversions, relieving his mind of the burdens that constant work visits upon conscientious judges. His charming talks to women's clubs and kindred associations, were only regarded as evidences of his gentle sympathy with all that was cultured and uplifting. The general estimate of his character was that he was a kindly, amiable, fair man, content with his position, and interested in political affairs only in an academic way.

But the moment that he is nominated as the candidate for Governor, he becomes transformed. Instead of the humble, patient law-giver, holding the scales equally between his fellowmen, he becomes at once a partisan, denouncing his opponent in rancorous fashion, applying epithets to him that were as slanderous as they were vicious; proclaiming Democrats as enemies of public order; claiming his opponents were insincere politicians, seeking votes at the expense of the people. Instead of the honied words and phrases that flowed from his lips for the delectation of college audiences and women's societies, there now stream words of condemnation and savage assaults against those who happen to hold a different political opinion.

All this has struck the people of Kentucky with amazement and sorrow. They grieve that so good a man as Judge O'Rear posed as being, should develop over night into a vituperative speaker, with no kind word for anyone, and with bitterness on his lips, and hatred in his heart for all Democrats.

The result is that Judge O'Rear is now regarded as an unsafe man. He lacks judgment, discretion and conservatism. His revolutionary ideas would disturb the peace of the State, retard its progress, and bring disaster to its industries. It will not do to trust him with great power.

The most significant feature of this campaign is the revolt of the business interests against O'Rear. They have watched him during the past two months of the campaign, listened to his mutterings and threatnings, and weighing him in the balance they have found him wanting. They believe that his election would not promote law and order in the State, and that from the position he has taken at several critical periods in the history of the Commonwealth, it would not be wise to elevate him to the Governorship.

CORRESPONDENCE.

SIDE VIEW

Col. Staggs has been very ill at his home at this place for several days. His many friends are proud to know that he is rapidly improving.

Mrs. Rufus Dunn has returned to her home at Side View, after a ten days' visit to relatives in Knoxville, Tenn. Her little niece, Charlotte Betterton, accompanied her home.

Bruce Willoughby has gone to Mt. Sterling, where he has accepted a position with Robinson & Moore.

Miss Irmina Sewell, teacher of Wades Mill school, visited her sister at Side View from Saturday until Sunday.

Rufus Dunn sold to Earl Pharris, a bunch of hogs at 5c pound.

Mr. Hamilton and son, Ben F., of Portsmouth, Ohio, visited relatives at Sharpsburg from Thursday morning until Friday afternoon.

Miss Mabel Booth is attending College at Flat Rock. Her many friends wish her much success.

Miss Sadie Dunn was in Mt. Sterling Saturday evening shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Denton, of High Top, were in Mt. Sterling Saturday on business.

Mr. J. H. Turley is able to be out again after several days' illness.

Lawrence Peed, of High Top, sold to Wick Bush, of Grassy Lick, a horse for $100.

KIDSVILLE

Several from here attended court at Winchester Monday.

We are glad to state Harry Hadden is better at this writing.

Mrs. T. A. Ogden, of West Bend, spent several days with her sister, Miss Sarah Hughes, recently.

Mrs. Nan Errington, of Lexington, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Piratt.

Mrs. Effie and Alta Vivion spent Saturday at West Bend.

Miss Ethel Boone has returned home, after a visit with her grandparents at West Bend.

Misses Stella and Mary Williams spent Friday afternoon with Miss Ethel Boone.

Miss Clemma Hudson visited her parents at Royslyn farm Saturday until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bailey, of Winchester, visited his daughter, Mrs. Jim Richardson and other relatives here recently.

Messrs. Harvey Vivion and Muryan Finny, of this place, spent Saturday night and Sunday at Donalson.

HIGH TOP.

The farmers are about done housing tobacco in this section.

J. E. Henry is on the sick list.

Mr. William Barker and Miss Minnie Davis, of this county, were united in marriage Monday, October 18. Their many friends wish them a happy and prosperous life.

Mr. Jesse Davis and Miss Virgie Stockdale, of this county, were married in Mt. Sterling, Monday, October 18. We wish them a happy life.

Fenton Henry sold to D. P. Henry two sows and pigs for $25.

Mr. John Covey and family will leave this week for Indiana to make their future home.

The Bryan brothers, Kellar and Everett, left Thursday for Illinois to husk corn.

Miss Millie Flanders spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Mee.

The bird law will be out in a few days. The rabbits and birds had better hide out.

The first frost of the season came Sunday night.

GRASSY LICK.

Mrs. Mariah Thompson and Mrs. M. G. Ramsey, of Clark county, visited Mrs. B. F. Soper last Saturday.

The ladies of the Methodist church here gave a box supper Saturday evening, Oct. 21. A large crowd was present and every one seemed to have a good time. Fifty-four boxes were sold, bringing in all $88.50. Much credit is due Wm. Cravens, the auctioneer, for the way in which he made the young man and the older one, too, "come across" when his "best girl's" box was put up.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hensey, of Mt. Sterling, is visiting relatives here.

R. L. Stone, of Owingsville, visited the family of T. J. Carr Monday night.

Misses Mary Dean and Lizzie Cassett have returned from an extended visit to friends and relatives in West Virginia and Ohio. They took in the sights at Niagara Falls and Toronto on their return home.

Mrs. Clayton Ramsey, of Winchester, spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. William Ramsey.

Robert Carr, of Winchester, came Sunday to see his grandfather, T. J. Carr, who has been very sick, but is improving now.

Miss Dean Hall, who has been a very pleasant visitor here, returned to her home at Sharpsburg Monday.

The time of year has come now "when the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock."

J. Gano Johnson, proprietor of Emerald Chief Stock Farm, is having erected a silo, with a capacity of 150 tons.

STOOPS.

A large acreage of wheat and rye are yet to be sown.

Louise Reid has recovered from a severe spell of sickness.

Mrs. J. H. Gillaspie is visiting relatives at Lexington.

John Jones and wife, of Kendall's Spring, are visiting the family of James Hicks.

Those of us who saw and heard Ollie M. James speak last Tuesday night were left wondering how the little town of Marion could produce such a big man.

J. E. Helton and family, of this county, went last week to Illinois to reside.

Corn has nearly all been cut and the quality of fodder is far below normal.

Mrs. Lucy Smathers and daughter, Mrs. Lida Mark, of Springfield, are visiting the former's son, Dwight Smathers, at Cincinnati.

Mrs. Thos. Crockett, who has been suffering for some time with an eye affliction, has about recovered.

The time of year is at hand when t-u-r-k-e-y spells "trouble."

Owing to such bad weather a small crowd attended services at Springfield Sunday morning.

Mrs. J. R. Copher returned Sunday from the hospital. Her chances for permanent recovery are excellent.

S. F. Deal is preparing to put in operation a grist mill at this place.

W. H. and M. W. Bridges, J. H. Gillaspie and wife attended the unveiling of the Morgan monument at Lexington last week.

Tom Sanders and wife, of Bourbon county, are here visiting relatives.

Call phone 85 and 100 for your meats, pure pork and link sausage.

To Those Who Do Not Advertise.

The man who whispers down a well About the things he has to sell Will never reap a crop of dollars Like he who climbs a tree and "hollers."

Aldrich's Plan is Presented.

Nelson A. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, has submitted to the National Monetary Commission a revision of his monetary legislation plan. The basic principles are substantially the same as in the first plan, and the plan still provides for a National Reserve Association, with capital of approximately $200,000,000, in which the Federal Government and banks owning shares shall be the only depositors. He would still divide the country into fifteen districts, the banks of which shall form associations of their own.

The original plan provided that the Governor of the association should be appointed by the President from a submitted list, and that the President should have power to remove him. The revised plan reserves the right of removal to a two-thirds vote of the governing board. One important change is admission to membership of State banks and trust companies which conform to the required standard, which is similar to National bank requirements. Aldrich, in the other provisions of his plan, goes into great detail.
